

RAISED GARDEN BED

Steel Garden Bed is a plant driven system where plants receive water through a capillary water feeding system. Aquadam Garden bed is a modern design, yet practical zincalume raised garden bed that incorporates a built-in reservoir for holding water underneath the bed.

WHY CHOOSE A STEEL GARDEN BED

- ✓ Easy DIY system, capillary system built in raised garden bed
- ✓ Self watering system from base reservoir, planned holidays can be taken no worries of who will water plants
- ✓ Less evaporation of water, water never in direct sunlight
- ✓ Maximum usage of confined spaces economically and neatly
- ✓ Healthier plants and vegetables, any extra nutrients can be added to water and not directly on to plants and leaves
- ✓ Plants only utilize water needed to grow, no overwatering or under watering, roots remain wet but will not rot, assisting in less weeds
- ✓ Steel ensures longevity unlike alternate garden beds with insects eating into wooden materials and with no liner means, no need to constantly check for tears or leaks

Customers agree that a steel raised garden much more aesthetically pleasing than conventional raised garden bed or planter or wooden raised garden bed and can compliment any space and visual perspective.

PLACES RAISED GARDEN BED CAN BE USED

- ✓ Accentuate driveways, walkways or pool areas
- ✓ Business park or restaurant patios
- ✓ Garden Terrace or confined town house spaces
- ✓ School and community garden or vegetable projects
- ✓ Estate gate entrances or focal points around water features
- ✓ Plant Nursery's or home-grown herb supply
- ✓ Areas where soil quality too hard, acidic or not existing
- ✓ Parking or hospital waiting areas

GARDEN BED SIZES

PRODUCT CODE	DIMENSIONS
	'A'	'B'	'C'
